Buyers Notes

- Consider whether saving money on the front end by choosing a cheaper option is worth it when factoring in the cost of vacuuming, hot-water extraction and chemicals. Stain-resistant carpet may pay off.
- Facilities are now about 50/50 in modular carpeting, one designer noted. Many older nursing homes with broadloom carpets are replacing the carpet in favor of vinyl options.
- “Fashion is a moving target,” one vendor said, and regional differences abound. A green beloved by one facility in the South may be a no-go in the Midwest, for example.
- Carpet remains a good way to help with acoustics, especially in facilities with buzzers or noise issues.

“There’s no easy answer. You can do carpet squares for different floor types. We’ve had luck with carpet squares, but you have to ask a lot of questions and trust your partners.”
